NON-EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Warrington's Own Buses is in an exciting phase and the business is improving across all key measures and has been recognised with a 'Silver' at this year's UK Bus Awards.

We are now looking for a non-Executive Director to have Director level responsibility for the business.

The Non-Exec will advise the Executive Director and approve key decisions through the Board (legal training will be provided).

The new Non-Exec will provide a creative contribution and improvement by providing dispassionate and objective guidance. They will attend 6x Board Meetings a year and be part of an ambitious municipal bus company.

You will need to be articulate and intelligent, independent and impartial, able to digest and synthesise information and data, confident and willing to contribute. You will be a strategic thinker and have wide experience and a track record of delivering in organisations.

Transport experience is not essential, though it is desirable for this voluntary role.
